Dedication

The career of English teacher Elna Moore could not have begun under more intimidating circumstances. In 1968, her first teaching year, she took on freshman, sophomore and junior classes at Moscow where the high school had been relocated after the fire. Classes there were cramped, supplies were limited and the rebuilding process tried the patience of the most seasoned educators.

Her first year, she would admit, was full of disappointments, disillusionments and frustrations that she could not have anticipated. Many teachers who encounter this realization leave teaching. Not so for Elna Moore.

That year formed the basis for a teaching career that eventually led to the chairmanship of the English department. Mrs. Moore honed to perfection a patience and understanding that, balanced with a keen knowledge of the subject, made her truly a master teacher. She developed a personal as well as academic interest in her students — a quality that demanded and received devoted respect from them.

After eleven years of driving 44 miles round trip from her home in Livingston to her job in Corrigan, Elna Moore submitted her resignation for personal reasons effective January, 1980. She and her husband Sam (Trigger) Moore have adopted a baby girl, Amanda Brooke.

Stepping Into the 80's

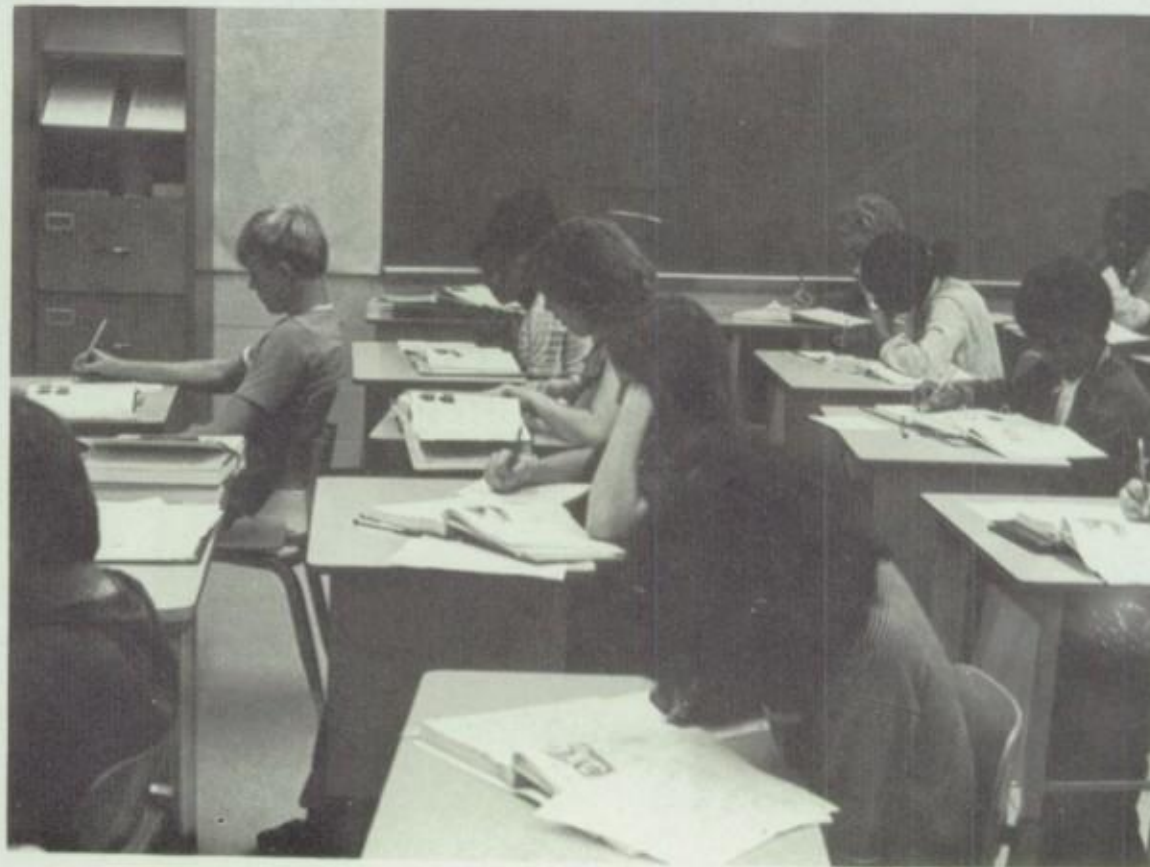

We take the steps we take for granted — one foot in front of the other with a destination in sight. As we moved from the excitement of the 70's into the uncertainty of the 80's, we have questions about our role in a changing society. The energy crisis has made us wonder how our lifestyles will change in the coming decade. What changes will transportation, education, politics, and entertainment undergo? In 1992, when this year's first graders are seniors, how many things as we know them will be the same?

Our past has taught us that circumstances are the harbinger of change. We will change; but as long as our steps are directed by the strength of tradition and direction, we can move forward without fear.

Our Steps

Sometimes Our Steps Are

Thoughtful steps led us in competitions, workouts and through the daily routines. When times were sad and disappointing, we did not stumble.

Sometimes our steps are

Unsteady

No one said it would be easy. We had to make decisions and many times one chance is all we got. But we tried — to do our best, be our best. That's what mattered in the end.

But at all times our steps are Aimed and Directed.

*We placed our steps in the footprints

... Aides ... Librarians ...

The librarians and aides within the district have very important jobs.

The aides serve the teachers by helping them with running off tests, worksheets and handouts. They type for the teachers and help them grade enormous amounts of papers.

The librarians on the three campuses have the task of keeping the thousands of volumes of books in readable condition, and more importantly, keeping up with their whereabouts. The librarians are also responsible for checking out to teachers expensive audio-visual equipment. Theirs is indeed an important assignment.

The first grade is perhaps the most important grade of all; it is here that students are introduced to the basic skills needed for the next eleven years of education.

The skills taught in the first grade include addition and subtraction operations using ones and tens. In language basic capitalization and punctuation are introduced including periods, question marks and commas. Areas also covered include alphabetical order, verb forms and basic grammar. Reading is an important area. Covered are word attack skills, consonants and vowels, blends and diagraphs, vowel variants, syllabication and affixes. Students are introduced to literal and interpretive forms or comprehension.

The second grade continues the basic skills in a more intensive manner. In reading, the basal textbooks are used to develop word perception and analysis and reading comprehension. Students usually read aloud. The introduction of forty-odd speech sounds of the language is begun in spelling in the order of their frequency of use in writing. Also a mastery of spelling patterns and multisyllable words including inflectional endings and affixes are stressed.

Third grade math includes multiplication, division and regrouping in addition and subtraction. Language skills studied are capitalization, nouns and verbs, and end punctuation. In reading, syllabication, parts of speech and outlining are covered as well as alphabetical order. Sound symbols are studied in spelling.

Plants, dinosaurs, the animal community and matter are studied in third grade science. In social studies, communities and their needs are stressed. Map reading and citizenship are also included.

Principals State Educational Philosophy

Mr. Joe Gassiott, in his first year at CCHS principal brings this philosophy: "In this liberal era, I am no doubt yet a conservative. The old and proven fundamental teaching and learning techniques are still number one today."

"The foundation for a meaningful learning experience lies in the teacher of respective subjects and student motivation. There should be a creative activity planned for every minute a teacher is with students. Students and parents alike demand that teachers be firm in discipline but fair and consistent in application."

After four years as a principal, the last two at the Intermediate School, Mr. Jacob Sherman believes "all individuals should be able to successfully meet and solve their own problems and be productive members of society. Public schools have the responsibility to offer all persons an opportunity to obtain skills, foundations, and attitudes that can help them attain their goals in life and become good citizens."

Mrs. Mary Maude Bolton has been Elementary principal for five years.

"My main goals for the children who attend Corrigan-Camden Elementary School are to take them as they are and do the job I can to equip them with the highest attainable skills in reading, writing and all other basics in education."

"However, these are not the only goals I have. I want to be able to instill in them the skills of learning to accept responsibility, to give love, to treat others as one wants to be treated, and to give of themselves to God and their country."

Mary Bolton

J. R. Cockrell Leads Way for Busy School Year

For the past twenty-four years J. R. Cockrell has been the Superintendent of the Corrigan-Camden Schools. He, along with the members of the school board, have had many tasks over the years, such as hiring new teachers for the school system, planning and completion of various building projects, seeing to the maintenance and upkeep of the facilities, and numerous other tasks that have become routine for Mr. Cockrell.

Although he is almost always busy, he seems to find time to help students, parents, faculty, and personnel with their problems.

The faculty and entire student body of CCHS greatly appreciate his consideration and support during the past twenty-four years that he has been with our school.

Got a Problem? See the People With the Answers

Board Completes Building Program, Adopts School Policies

The men who make up the Corrigan-Camden Board of Trustees had a busy and productive school year in 1980. These local business and community leaders have proven time after time that the educational welfare of the children of the district is their foremost concern.

The year marked the completion of the largest (cost-wise) building program in the history of the district. The new Intermediate school, renovation of the elementary school and construction of an all-weather track were completed at a cost of $1,400,000.

Also for the first time in the history of the school, the board developed and adopted a complete set of organized and printed policies for the governance of the district. The policies were developed through the Texas Association of School Boards.

The Board was actively involved in the month by month direction of the overall school program, including development of procedures for the completion of the accreditation process.

The Board involved the district in the county-wide Tax Appraisal Program, the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills Program and the district-wide hospitalization insurance program.

Prom Attendance by Juniors Determined by Point System

The 1980 Junior Class presented "Stairway to Heaven" for the seniors at the Jr. and Sr. Prom held at the high school on May 10.

The Junior Class worked anxiously toward their goal of $3000 with various fund raising projects including calendar sales, bake sales and dances plus concessions from sports events. New sale activities included the Globe Travelers in March and a circus in November.

With their goal achieved the class got busy with decorations and the prom program. The guest speaker was Dan McBride of Jacksonville. The Tony Taliaferro Band provided the music for the dance after the banquet.

The menu prepared by the cafeteria staff included chicken fried steak, potatoes, green beans, salad and strawberry shortcake.

For the first time, a point system was used to determine which juniors could attend the prom. A 40 point system was used, and juniors earned one point for every profit dollar earned. The system was started to equalize the work load throughout the class.

Sophomores Can Expand Interests

When a student enters the Sophomore Class he can expect to have classes like English II, world history, biology, geometry, band and speech.

First Annual C-C Day A Huge Success

The first annual Corrigan-Camden Day, sponsored by the Booster Club, was celebrated with much pomp and pageantry on October 13.

The highlight of the day was the crowning of C-C Day queen, Sudy Frankens, who represented the Corrigan Merchants.

Addie Roberts (representing Champion Corrigan), Kathy Smiley (representing Louisiana-Pacific) and Betty Wood (representing Champion Camden) competed with Sudy for the title.

Beginning in September, money-raising events were scheduled. Included were a powder puff game, talent show, dances, suppers, raffles, bingo parties, cake sales and souvenir sales.

A parade kicked off the day which included four area bands and numerous floats and out-of-town entries.

Afterward, spectators moved to the football field where booths and special events were set up.

The event was hailed a success by all, and plans are already underway for the next C-C Day in 1981.

Longtime Corrigan residents Hunter Bergman and Susie Kurtzman were honored by riding the High School float.

Graduation Is Special for Sixth Graders

Seventy-one sixth graders graduated in the May 29 ceremony held in the high school cafetorium. Christina David was class valedictorian and Michael LeBlanc was salutatorian.

Mr. Jasper Cockrell addressed the graduating class, and presentation of diplomas was made by Mr. Alton Burris and Mr. W. B. Andrews.

The Fifth Grade choir directed by Mr. Richard Jackson provided entertainment.

After the exercise, a reception was held in honor of the graduating class and their parents.

Spring Concert Highlights Year's End for Band

On May 24, the Annual Spring Concert of the Corrigan-Camden Music Department was held at the high school cafetorium. Under the direction of Mr. Byron Shelton, both the beginning band and the high school band performed.

The Beginning Band, composed of fifth and sixth graders, performed four numbers. A sax trio treated the audience to a special arrangement of "The Entertainer." The trio included Matthew Sherman, David Broaddus and Jason King.

The High School Band led with the "Star Spangled Banner" and performed eight numbers including "Arietta for Winds," "Basin Street Blues," "Harlem Nocturne," "Brass Fever," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The High School Band was followed by the Stage Band, which performed five numbers. "New Generation," "Little Brown Jugg," "Night Fever," "Who's Sorry Now," and "Woodchopper's Ball." Members of the High School Band give their all in "Overture for Winds," opposite, top. "The Entertainer" was performed by Matthew Sherman, David Broadus and Jason King, opposite, middle.

Over 70 Corrigan-Camden students participated in the annual Cystic-Fibrosis Bike-a-Thon. For the third year, Mr. Ed Ray coordinated the event which included a 25 mile bike run. Students were asked to take donations for the miles they completed. In the 9-12 Division, Art Pennington was the winner. Freado Quagliato was the winner in the 6-8 Division, and Shawn Higgins won the 1-5 Division. Teresa Adams was given a trophy for the most money collected — $547. A total of $2140 was collected. Candlelight, Scrolls Highlight Prom

The 1980 Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet was an occasion for celebration.

Each table setting was accented with stars, and candles provided dining light. Hundreds of stars and candles were hung from the ceiling and a "real" stairway to heaven was built. As students entered the door, a scroll containing the program and menu was presented as a souvenir.

"She Didn't Believe" Performed Dec. 18

"She Didn't Believe" was the title of the Elementary School's annual Christmas play performed by the children in K-3 on December 18.

The play was about a little girl whose family takes their Christmas vacation in the South. Dorothy, the little girl played by Shelley Brascell, doesn't believe that Christmas will really happen in a place where there is no snow.

ORGANIZATIONS

*Designed

Student Council . . .

The Student Council is an organization composed of students from grades 9-12. Each member performs a specific duty which insures cooperation throughout the school. The Student Council hopes to bring about a closer relationship between the faculty and student body.

The Council had three main projects in 1980. The topics were safety, alcoholism, and taking care of the elderly. Hall Stewart, DPS trooper from Lufkin, showed a film to the student body on March 13, concerning automobile safety. On December 19, the Student Council gave members of the elderly community a party in which corsages were given to the ladies and fruit baskets were given to the men.

The organization was responsible for the purchasing a new portable public address system for the high school.

On April 19, the annual Cystic Fibrosis Bike-a-thon, was sponsored by the council. The bike-a-thon was twenty-five miles long. The first place winner for the high school was Art Pennington, the first place winner for the intermediate was Freddy Quagliato. The winner for the elementary was Shawn Higgins.

Diane Stricklen, left, and Rene Burks were two of the female "most originally dressed" winners of the '50's Day dress contest.

Student Council sponsored Slave Day in October. The proceeds went to help purchase a portable public address system for the school.

Fundamentals of Agriculture

FUND RAISERS

Members of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) had a busy year in 1980. Fund raising activities began in October with the magazine subscription drive. Novelty mugs were sold in December as well as the annual fruit sale.

On March 6 the Polk-San Jacinto Soil and Water Conservation District contest was held in Livingston. The Forestry team, composed of John Sirman, Keith Burks, Milt Purvis and Dennis Bacon, won first in that event. Dennis was high point individual in the event. The first place automatically qualified the team for the state contest, held in Nacogdoches on April 30.

The plant identification team composed of Daniel Nowak, Art Pennington, Anthony Toole and Jimmy Pinchard placed second at the District contest. Daniel scored the high point total for individuals in the contest. At the Area IX contest in Huntsville the team placed eleventh.

The degree is the highest honorary certificate awarded by the state FFA association.

Nowak had to keep accurate record books for all projects for at least two years. He had to compete in numerous contests above the local level. Leadership ability, including holding local office positions, was also considered.

Youth for Christ

The Youth for Christ Organization was a new club added to CCHS in the Spring of 1980. Mr. Bob Barrett sponsored the Youth for Christ. Some of the things they did were; give a brief message each morning, lead the pledge of allegiance to our flag, and they also made posters with the pledge written on them for each classroom.

DECA Students

Distributive Education is designed to teach a student to recognize his obligations to his community. The D.E. student has an opportunity to develop a more acceptable social behavior.

ACTIVITIES

The D.E. students have had several fund raising projects this year to finance their annual employer appreciation banquet. They sold giant coloring books, two-year planners, tennis shoes key rings plus operated the Dog House School Store which sells school supplies and candy and chips at lunch.

Diane Stricklen, Gina Ascol and Lisa King participated in the Area DECA competitive events at Dobie High School in Houston. Gina won two merits in General Merchandising and Lisa won a merit in Finance and Credit.

The Employer Appreciation Banquet was on May 8th at the High School cafeteria. This is how the D.E. students show their thanks for the employees who have supported.

CONCEPTS

The Distributive Education student has an opportunity to participate in many activities which teach him not only to assume leadership responsibilities but to serve in the capacities of both a follower and a leader.

Bulldog Growl Staff Prints 6 Papers

The Bulldog Growl staff is responsible for the production of the school newspaper. This year the students produced six tabloid-size newspapers, beginning in October, and two special mimeographed editions in February and March. In the February edition, staff members sold song dedications and rose-ratings for publication. In the March issue, student consumerism was analyzed. Staff members took surveys and researched their particular subjects to offer the most complete report possible concerning CCHS student spending habits.

Staff members were responsible for all aspects of newspaper production — a fact many 2A schools cannot boast. Students write the stories, make dummies for their page layout, write headlines, and picture captions, lay the typeset print onto the dummy page. Also, student photographers take, develop and print all photographs that appear in the paper.

The Bulldog Growl is a member of the University Interscholastic League Press Conference and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

NIGHT

Friday's Routine

Waking up feeling a little stiff from yesterday's practice, we try to arrive at school a little earlier than usual to meet with our football buddies in the front of the school. All of us are wearing our football shirts with our game number on them. Everyone is joking about last week's game and the one coming up tonight, but you can feel the seriousness among the players toward the game.

During the day you notice the banners and posters that are hanging in the halls. These give you a little boost every time you see them. In class you go about your daily work, but subconsciously you're thinking about tonight and waiting for the pep rally to begin. The teachers offer their support in their own way throughout the day by letting their class answer roll call with supportive yells or chants and by participating in the pep rallies.

When the pep rally rolls around, it's a great feeling to see your student body and members of the community there supporting your team. When approached by elementary and intermediate school students they know you because you're on the football team which makes you proud!

We go home or stay up town and grab something to eat before the game, but you're not really hungry. At the field house about two hours before the game you receive your game shirt, pants and socks from one of the coaches. You put your pads in your pants and get partially dressed for the game.

Before we go out and warm up the coach gives us our pre-game plan talk. While making our way up to the field we see the people coming in for the game. You can feel the butterflies in your stomach and the adrenalin flowing through your body. You hear the people in the stands yelling and the band playing.

After warming up we go back to the field house for the final game plan talk. We have our prayer and then file outside and run through the banner. The fans are yelling and the band is playing the fight song when the game begins.

After the victory or loss, we're very tired and sore. And even more beat up if you lost the game. Afterwards either we celebrate the victory or a long bus ride home after a defeat.

'Dogs Finish Second to Central in Zone

The Varsity Baseball team enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in school history. They won two trophies, finished second in zone competition, and compiled a season record of 14-4.

The Bulldogs won a third place trophy in the Woodville Tournament and also the Central Tournament.

The Bulldogs opened the district race with a rush that lasted for five straight wins. Hudson was the first opponent to fall. Corrigan jumped out to a five-run lead and held off a Hudson rally in the seventh to move into district lead.

Rusk came to Corrigan a week later and met a similar fate. The 'Dogs took a 2-0 lead into the last inning and had to scramble to keep it. Rusk scored one run and had runners on first and third with two out before DuVall secured the game by tagging an Eagle out at home plate.

The next scheduled game was against Central, but was cancelled due to rain. The 'Dogs took on Diboll where DuVall pitched a no-hitter and smashed a three-run homer as Corrigan won 10-0.

After an open date, Corrigan traveled to Hudson and was victorious again. Donnie Harrie led the way this time with a home run in the seventh inning.

The 'Dogs then took their show to Rusk where Gordon Lambright lashed out four hits and Terry Phillips hit a three run homer.

Corrigan's hopes for the district championship were hurt when they lost to Central at home on April 29. Central got off to an early 6-1 lead and as Corrigan closed the gap to 6-5, the visiting Bulldogs scored three more on a home run wrap-up.

THE YEAR THAT SHOCKED US

As members of a generation that has seen no war or hostility toward our country, we were shocked in 1979-80 to learn that Americans were under verbal, and in the Iranian crisis, violent attack.

We learned quickly, too, that a deep-seated American pride was ours. We realized that many sacrifices must be made in the future, and the question left as yet unanswered in 1980 is "Are we strong enough to adapt?"

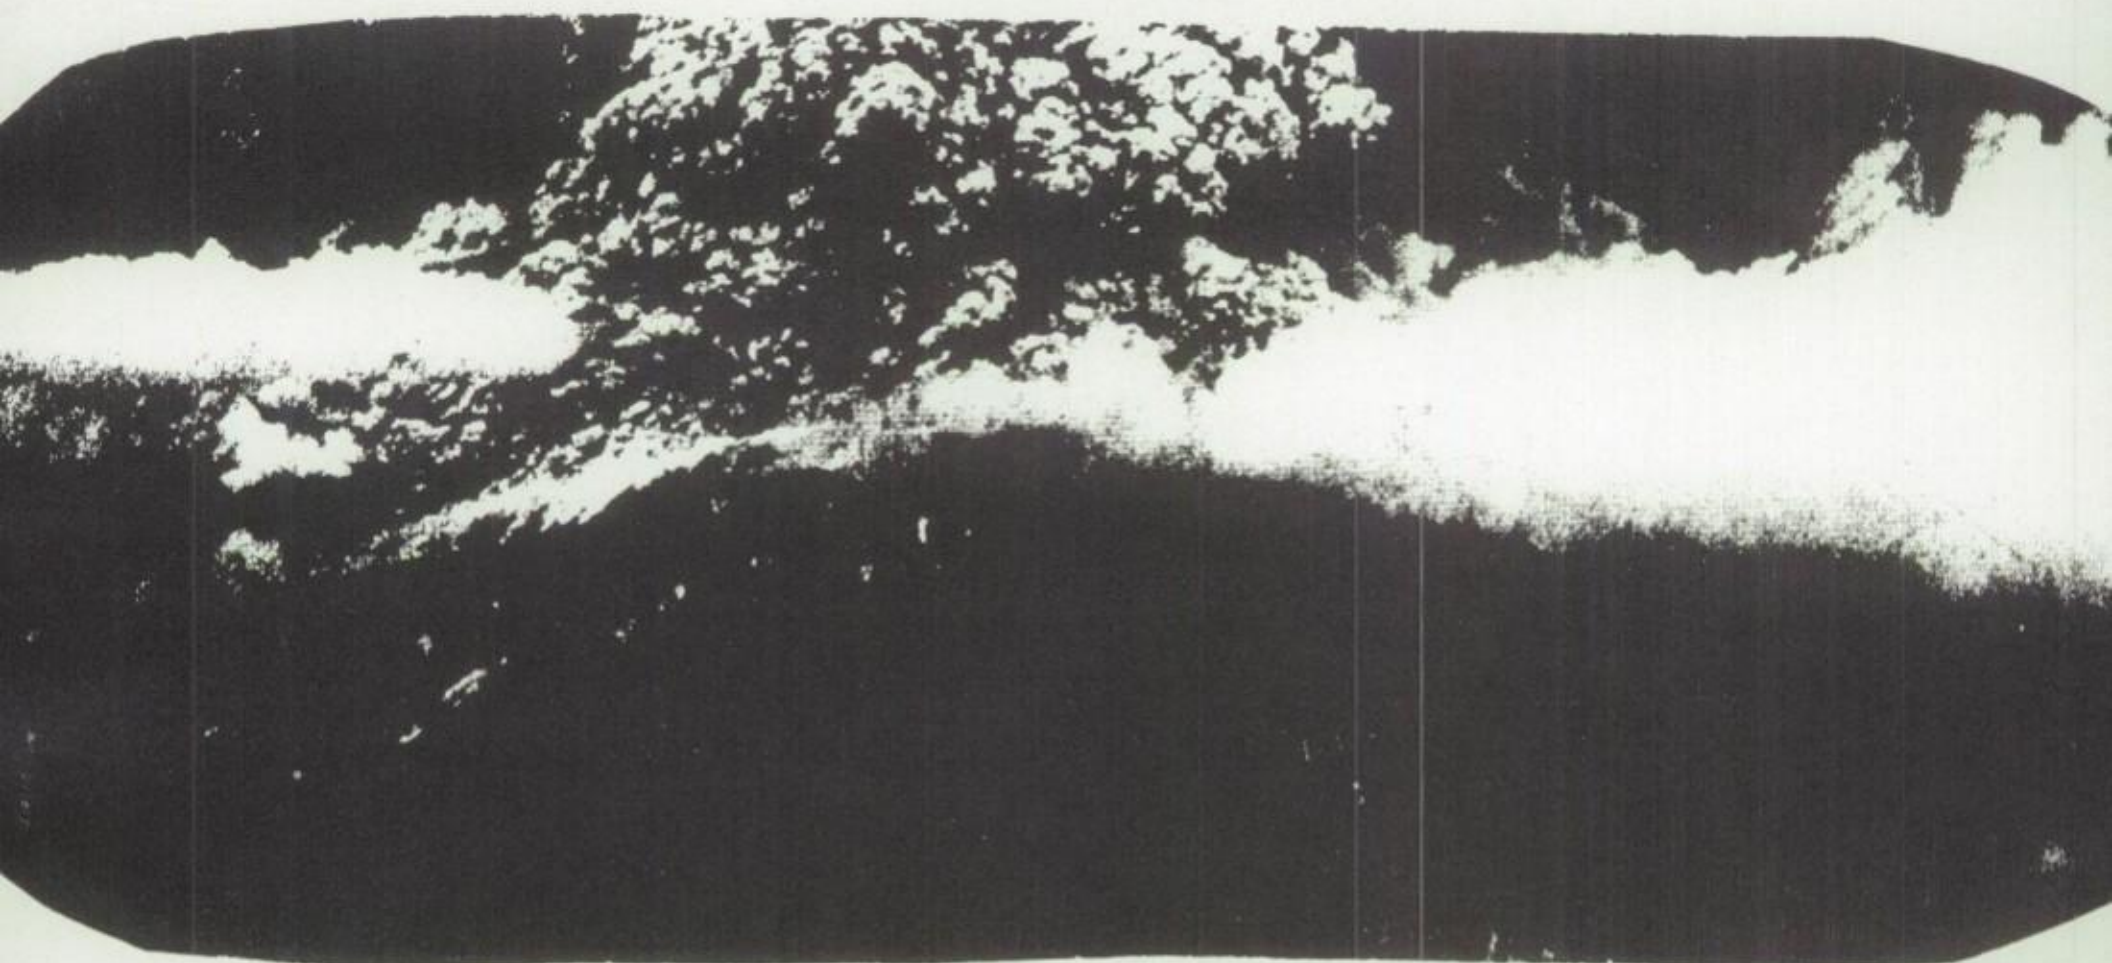

Some politicians were pushing for a reinstatement of the draft. Seniors worried that they may be called. Girls wondered, "Would they really call us too?"

St. Helens

The Mt. St. Helens eruption showed us a side of nature never before witnessed by modern Americans. Tornadoes, hurricanes we expect. But a volcanic eruption on the continental United States was uncanny.

Gold . . . Juniors learned what the rise in price of gold meant to them. A plain 14K gold senior ring cost well over $200. Most juniors were forced by the price to purchase a ring made of alloy material.

IRAN

Signs and slogans on the backs of vehicles in the parking lot signaled the local feelings about the Iranian crisis. Corrigan students were outraged and the TV in the library was often a gathering place for news of the latest developments.

Jeans Styles underwent a drastic change in '80. Designer jeans became popular with the girls. Cowboy boots, of a city-slicker type, were seen under jeans and with some skirts. Corn-rowed hair styles became a spring fashion, as many girls' grandmothers revived an old practice.

Commencement Held in Bulldog Stadium

For the first time ever at CCHS commencement exercises were held at Bulldog Stadium on May 30 at 8 p.m.

The ceremonies were moved from the high school cafetorium.

The home stands were filled with family and friends of the 51 graduates.

As the band played the Processional, the seniors marched from the west entrance gate to the podium at the fifty-yard line.

After the prayer by Bro. Royce

Pennington, the salutatory was given by Quincy Adams and the Valedictory by Kenneth DuVall.

Superintendent J. R. Cockrell introduced the Reverend Billy Fancher, a Moscow native, and District Superintendent of the Nacogdoches District of the Methodist Church.

Senior Class President Dennis Bacon presented the class gift, a portable p.a. system.

School Board President W. B. Andrews presented the seniors

their diplomas assisted by board secretary Johnny Powell.

Kenneth DuVall was presented the Champion $4,000 scholarship. Milt Purvis and Diane Stricklen were presented the American Legion award. Barbara Nash was presented the Michael Cockrell Memorial Scholarship and Lou Ann Hall received the United Collegiate Scholarship. Milt Purvis and Diana DeShazo received a special VFW scholarship.

Quill Staff Uses Knowledge

The 1980 Blue Quill staff was composed of 18 members. These students worked hard selling ads, finding layouts, and taking pictures to compile the Blue Quill. The staff members were:

Co-Editors Lisa King and Connie Davis; Gina Ascol on faculty and Chandra Carpenter who worked on faculty and personalities; Photographers Susan Vaughn, Gordon Lambright, and Diana

DeShazo; Beverly Bell and Teresa Pullin on classes; Lou Ann Hall and Katie Burnett on organization; Barbara Nash, Lorie Keiffer, and Linda Toole for ads; and Tonie Meniffee, Charlotte Benjamin and Marshall Colquitt on Sports. Milt Purvis did a little bit of everything.

to Produce Book

Six members of the staff attended camp at SHSU in Huntsville. They learned to make layouts, crop pictures, and other important things which they passed on to the rest of the staff. These students were Chandra Carpenter, Teresa Pullin, Connie Davis, Lou Ann Hall, Lisa King, and photographer Diana DeShazo. While at camp Chandra won an award for a personalities layout and Lou Ann won an award for an organizations layout.

We Had a Vision . . .

In the summer of '79 we began working, making plans, hoping to cover every event, so that many people would have special memories included in this book.

We erased, filed, stamped, cropped and even broke a few rulers to accomplish our goal.

Our visions were taken from what the staffs of the past had produced and what they had failed to produce. We pictured our school in a special way — a way that we thought it should be remembered.

Our vision of 1980 is the threshold of a great decade ahead. We are looking forward to it.

The completion of this book would not have been possible without the help and cooperation of the following people:

Marilynn Green, who lent us the use of her negatives for the FFA, Christmas play, PTA festival and many other pictures; to Mr. Gasriott and Mr. Barrett, for their patience and understanding; the faculty of the Intermediate and Elementary schools for their cooperation in gathering information for the curriculum section; to Mark Foster, school photographer for his assistance; to Margaret Smith for her hard work in producing the painting for our cover; and to Mrs. Elmore for her help.

We hope you enjoyed sharing our vision,

Connie Davis
Lisa King
